Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

MyPath made significant strides to transform systems and policies to create new economic inclusion pathways for youth and young adults living in low-income communities. Recognizing that low-income BIPOC youth experience deeply entrenched racial and economic barriers to financial advancement, MyPath's innovations support them to exit the cycle of poverty and achieve upward economic mobility. We are best known for partnering with workforce development organizations to integrate financial education and banking into employment programs as youth enter the world of work. In Fiscal Year 2020-21, our models supported more than 2,600 low-income working youth to embark on this path.

At a time when low-income BIPOC youth are particularly vulnerable to economic fallout from the COVID-19 pandemic, MyPath has made great progress in launching new innovations and advancements in the youth financial capability field. In the past year, we completed the development of our Youth Financial Mentor framework, the first of its kind to incorporate youth development and trauma-informed practices in preparing financial coaches to work with youth adults, and integrated this model into two youth guaranteed income pilots with the County of Santa Clara Social Services Agency and San Francisco Mayor's Office Opportunities for All initiative. We advanced the development of MyPath NEXT, a dynamic next generation fintech platform that will serve as a financial capability hub for youth participants, alumni, and staff at our partnering organizations. We also advanced our new Wealth Equity Lab, the first of its kind youth financial capability design and innovation hub, by taking steps to cultivate a growing ecosystem of more than 300 consultants and volunteers to work alongside MyPath staff and youth leaders to develop innovations that create
